- Determine the type, structure and porosity of hair.

- Decide how to prepare the hair.

If the hair is dry, porous or frizzy, moisturize it. If the hair is curly, you can straighten it with an iron.

- We distribute moisturizing emulsion on the hands and only after that apply it to the hair, from the middle of the length to the ends.

- Determine the parting. In sleek hairstyles, you can make a parting in the middle or asymmetrical. The parting should be 4-5 cm long, not more.

- Let's shape the hair a little bit and make it more sticky, for this purpose let's take powder

- Make a light neat teasing, starting from the middle of the crown and moving down to the nape of the neck. Put the teased strands forward.
- Begin to move backward and lay the strands downwards. Apply a texturizing spray and smooth out all the frizz with a comb.
- Repeat this with all strands. Our task is to create a firm and clean base.
- The top strands we work particularly carefully, comb through with a comb fork, removing teasing, if it is visible.

- Tease the strands on the left and right sides and lay them along the parting.
- In the same way, we layer the styling products and work the hair with a texturizing spray by strands, then immediately comb through it gently with a comb.
- Carefully work the area near the ears and the front zone by texturizing spray. Smooth out the hair with a comb.

- For greater staying power, let's apply a wax stick to the hair
- For better distribution, warm up the wax stick with a hair dryer.
- Gently apply it to the hair in a small area, starting on the left/right side, and move in a circle. After application, immediately comb through the hair gently, thereby sticking all the frizzies.
- Each time warm up the stick before applying it to the hair and comb it thoroughly through the hair.

- For more staying power, fix the ear zone and the front zone with a non-aerosol spray.

After applying, be sure to smooth out the small hairs with your fingers or comb.

Now let's make a ponytail.

- Let's make a firm base. For this, we need a rubber band and two small bobby pins.

- Smooth all the hair and try to bring it to the middle, to the place where the ponytail will be fixed.

- Once you are satisfied with the result, tightly clamp the base of the ponytail with your hand. Do not move your hand again until the rubber band is in place.

-Put the bobby pin in the closed state, from the bottom of the tail along the head. With your fingers hold the bobby pin so that it does not fall out.

- Take the second bobby pin and start winding the rubber band from the bottom of the ponytail.

We do this gently, as not to damage the smooth base.

-Do a few windings and secure the bobby pin at the base of the elastic band in the closed state.

- Let's close an elastic band with the hair. To do this, we put the bobby pin not completely, but clearly under the rubber band on the side of the ponytail. Select a small strand from the other side and make a few windings around the elastic band.

- Thread a small ponytail into the bobby pin and pull down the bobby pin. The ponytail is automatically threaded through the rubber band.

- Let's add an interesting detail to the ponytail.
- First, we work the hair along the length with a cream, give the hair more shine and smooth the frizz.
- Split the hair in half. Select a small strand on the left side, apply the cream to it. Take the tail of this strand, and guide under the big strand, form a loop and thread the ponytail into the loop.
- Do the same on the right side. Select a small strand, apply the cream, merge it with the strand from the left side and form a loop. Guide the ponytail under the big strand and thread the ponytail into the loop.
Tighten the strand well.

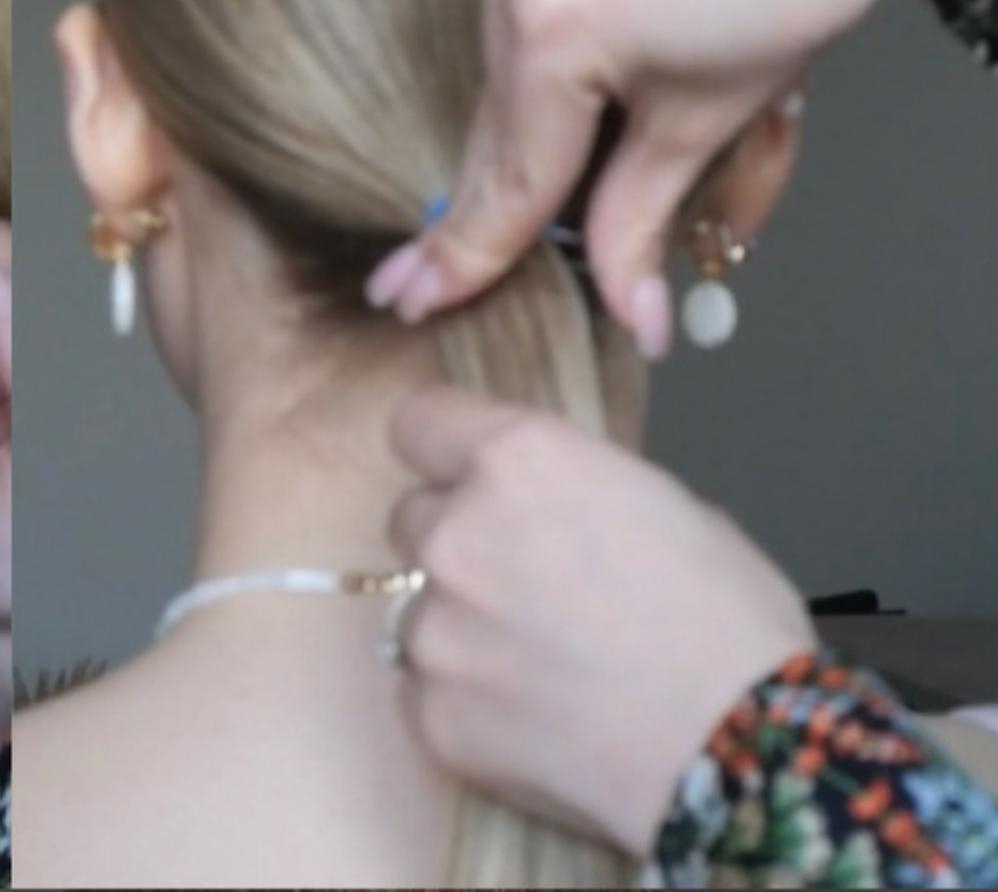

- Repeat this 6-7 times on each side.

-Take a silicone elastic band and fix our braid.

- Let's close the elastic band with the hair. To do this, again take a hairpin, put it under the elastic band.

On the opposite side we will take a small strand and wind it around the elastic band. We thread the tail through the bobby pin and pull out the bobby pin through the bottom.

Let's gather the first version of the smooth bun

- The base is left over from the tail.
- We take a silicone elastic band. We thread the ponytail through it, make the second turn of the rubber band and pull out the strand not all the way.
- The remaining part tail is guide to the side

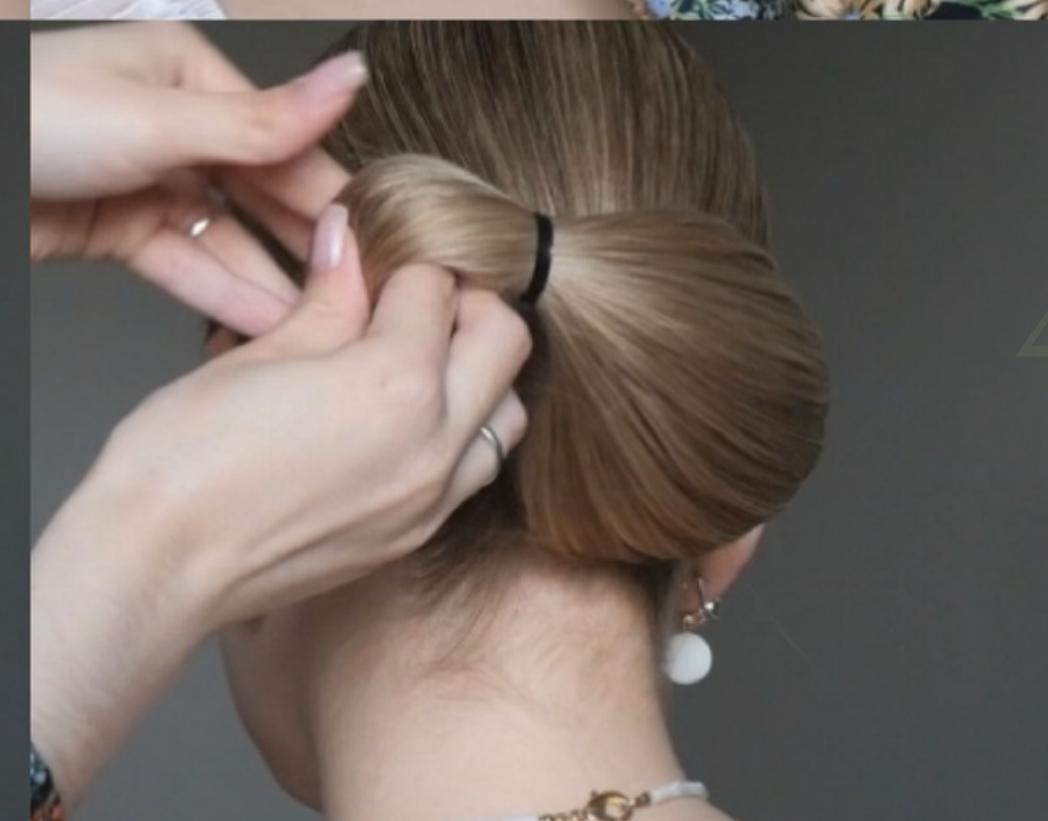

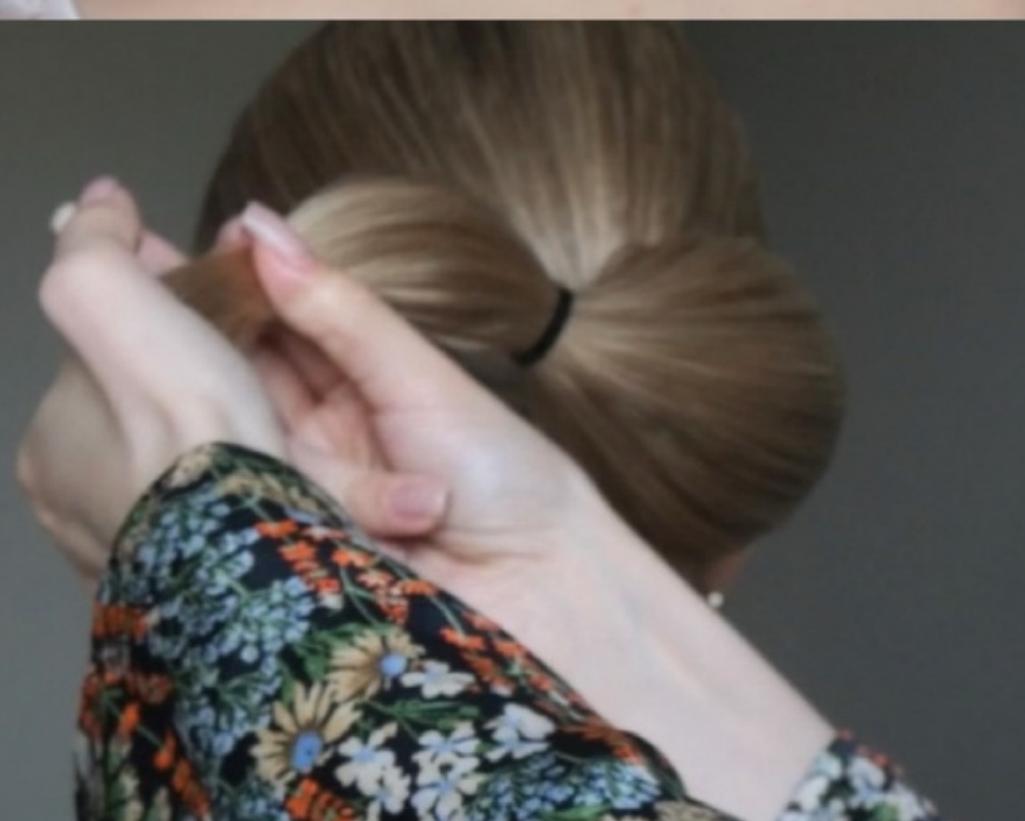

- We work through the strand with texture spray and take it through the top, making a full winding, thus closing the elastic band
- Take a small silicone elastic band and form a small tail to keep the strand from falling apart
- Let's hide the tail under the strand and secure it with the bobby pins in the closed state.
- Fix the bobby pins all around the bun. It is important to fix the bobby pins in the closed state and guide them along the head.
- For more staying power, in the end, we fix the bun with an aerosol spray. Use your fingers to gently smooth out the small hairs.

Let's make one more bun gathering.

- For the base of this bundle, let's make a slightly higher ponytail using the same scheme as at the beginning of the lesson.
- Let's take another rubber band, fold it in half and in the same way let's thread the bobby pins from one side and the other side.
- Gently pull the tail to the side. We work it through with a non-aerosol spray. We take our construction and put the bobby pin from the bottom of the ponytail to the top in the closed state.

Pull the rubber band up and secure the second bobby pin from the top down in the closed state, a few centimeters away from the base of the ponytail.

-Pull our ponytail to the opposite side while laying it out well, without kinks.

-Secure it with a silicone elastic band in the place where, approximately, we want to end the bun.

- The second elastic band fixes the little tip of the ponytail to keep the strand from falling apart.

- Now wrap our ponytail inwards, so as to hide all the elastic bands.

- Hold the bun tightly and start fixing it with large 6.5 mm bobby pins in the closed state.

Our task is to tightly fix the bun to the head.

- Then fix it with a non-aerosol spray and smooth it with your hand in the direction in which our ponytail was directed.

For greater staying power, we fix the bun with an aerosol spray with strong fixation, also smoothing all the frizz with your hand.
